WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Harrison's message to the Senate and house of representatives—In submitting my annual message to congress I have great satisfaction in being able to say that the general conditions affecting the commercial and industrial interests of the United States are in the highest degree favorable. A comparison of the existing conditions with those of the most favored period in the history of the country, I believe, show that so high a degree of prosperity and so general a diffusion of the comforts of life were never before enjoyed by our people.

The total wealth of the country at the end of the year 1890 was $1,690,600,000, an increase of $20,000,000 over the previous year.

The report of the commissioner of labor for the state of Massachusetts shows that during the year 1891, in that state the production of beginner infants was $2,421,430,000, and what here was an increase of $9,242,40
